We have before us a copy of the American Reader published by A. Lyman & Co. in 1911. The book belongs to W. S. Cordwell and is time-worn and well thumbed, though tattered from start to finish. On the fly leaf is the name of Isaac Flint, 1838. This was a popular reader for the first half of the last century and it is seldom so well preserved today and it is seldom so well preserved today and it is seldom so well preserved today.

We find in it the name of Nancy G. Flint of Greenwood.

Mrs. John Noyes of Greenwood, an adjoining town to Norway, has made a record with her hens the past year that is seldom equaled. She bought all the food for the flock of hens, and all the groceries for the house, and besides the income of these was able to deposit $500 in the bank. Mrs. Noyes and her daughter Ade took care of hens without any help except in building some of the houses. They sold eggs for hatching purposes, shipped eggs to the Boston markets and sold broilers.

VOLUME XLV.

Main Street, Norway, Before the Fire, May 9, 1894.

An Evening at the Shoe Factory

The new shoe firm of Carroll, Peabody, Jellison Shoe Co., which are doing business at the shoe shop, opened the factory to the public, Saturday night, and a large number of the townspeople and former employees at the factory availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the new firm and inspect the factory.

Early in the evening, that part of the factory known as the "new shop" was lighted through and was a pretty sight in the pale moonlight as the people from all parts of the village made their way to the factory. It was doubly attractive after a winter with closed doors.

All who desired visited all the different parts of the factory from the cutting room on the upper floor to the finishing and shipping room on the first floor.

A dance was held from eight until eleven o'clock on the second floor.

The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Chubb and a large number joined in the march.

The march was followed by waltzes, two-steps and square dances. The music furnished for the dance was by Pearl Cook, pianist; W. S. Stearns, Marion Haskell, Roland McCormick, Shirley Milliken, violinists; Clarence DeLoester, guitar; Howard Shaw, clarinet; Richard J. Skiles, cornet; William McDaniels, tape and drums.

During the evening refreshments of lemonade, crackers and sandwiches were served.

The townspeople were very much pleased with the opportunity of such a visit to the factory and appreciated the efforts of the new firm in offering them a pleasant evening's entertainment.

11th Annual Calico Ball. One of the pleasant events of the dancing season was the 11th Annual Calico Ball under the auspices of the Vermont Club, which was given at the Opera House on Friday evening, May 8th.

The grand march at 8:30 was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace W. Sheen, followed by assistant aids, Mr. and Mrs. Wardsworth Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Osmond Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Osmond Hill.

The march was one of the pretty figures of the evening, commencing with the usual simple changes which are used in all marches, changing with the serpentine change, which was the chief figure of the grand march. Shaw's orchestra of South Paris furnished excellent music which was enjoyed by those attending.

The ball was largely attended and this event will also retain the same rank as in years past, "the ball of the season for a jolly good time."

At intermission refreshments of Harlequin ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Addie Lovejoy, Mrs. Eva L. Fogge, Mrs. Susan Wentzle, Mrs. Addie Hill, Mrs. Vera Kilgore and Mrs. Carrie Davis.

At 12:30 the merry party danced the usual good night waltz, "Sweet Home," and then came to a close the Annual Veranda Club Ball.

Canadian Jubilee Stegers. The Canadian Jubilee Stegers gave a very pleasing concert at the Norway Opera House, Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church. There was a fair sized audience.

The selections were wide in their variety and consisted of many of the old time plantations songs and ballads. The solos by the different members were well rendered and received much applause.

The program consisted of solos, duets and chorus selections, with interesting readings and impersonations by Gerard Miller.

The company is composed of Mme. L. Patterson, Miss M. Barrier, soprano; Miss G. Thompson, alto; H. Berry, tenor; W. Williams, baritone; and Miss H. and Gerard Miller, bass and Miss H. and Gerard Miller, bass and Miss H. and Gerard Miller, bass.

Arrested When Leaving Town

E. A. Taylor was arrested Monday as he was leaving on the forenoon train, by deputy sheriff John A. Titus, for non-payment of bills. He was put in jail at South Paris. The particular bill which he was detained was that of Drake & Brooks.

Last spring Mr. and Mrs. Taylor came to Norway and after a short stay at the Beal's Hotel, they camped by Lake Kennebec during the summer. They first became known to Norway people by their valuable dog which they always led.

In the fall after the weather was too cold for camping, they took rooms at Della Noyes upstairs in the Noyes block and did light housekeeping.

They gave the impression that they were people of means and the past winter he has been engaged in building an aeroplane-driven boat of new model after his special designs at Geo. R. Stephen's boat building shop. This was understood to be more for a pleasure occupation than for hopes of money.

The boat was to be for his use in the lake when completed to his liking.

He mortgaged his interest in the boat to H. B. Foster for $700 agreeing to take up a note at the National bank of $550 that he had given Drake & Brooks. Besides this he was owing other bills in town.

He yet remains in jail. One of his friends has been soliciting funds on a subscription paper to compromise with his creditors but this has been abandoned and it is now supposed he will take a poor debtor's oath and get his liberty.

Some of his creditors with amounts varying from a few dollars to eighty odd—Drake & Brooks, grocers; E. L. Jackson, provisions; Thos. Smiley, hardware; J. Butts, hardware; F. W. Murdock, machinist; Della Noyes, rent; C. E. Bradford, laundry; Judge Wm. F. Jones, borrowed money; Myron Maxim, South Paris, et al.

The Eagle engine shipped him last winter was consigned to the Norway Aeroplane Co. Freight came to him under two names last summer, Martin George being one of the aliases.

The aeroplane-driven boat was launched and tried out on the 7th. It worked well and the air propeller drove the boat at a speed of from 6 to 12 miles per hour.

The previous history of Ernest A. Taylor or Martin George is unknown. He claims to have been a racing automobile driver and to have worked for the M. E. F. Company as a contracting salesman.

The repairs at the knitting factory have been nearly completed and a car of machinery has arrived, also the boiler. The foundation has been put in and the boiler is to be put in place soon. The lower part of the building has been sheathed and whitewashed over head. Both upstairs and down has been piped for steam heating.

The second volume of Along the Coast series of six books for boys written by Hugh Pendexter of Norway, the well known author, are displayed at George's drug store window. The original drawings for the illustrations make the display unusually interesting; also Mr. Pendexter's portrait. The expressions on the faces of the studies hold the attention of nearly every passer and the ludicrous situations cause many a smile.

A National Record.

What is believed to be a national record in rapid criminal procedure terminated May 7, when Charles Lemaux of Norway was sentenced to two years in State prison in Superior court and began his term just 24 hours after he committed the crime for which he was tried.

The case is the most complex as well as the fastest moving one, in New Hampshire criminal history. It concerns two states and three cities.

Wednesday afternoon the police at Nashua received word that the home of Zenophon D. Tolles of that city had been entered and robbed. The loot included a large amount of jewelry. "Half an hour afterward Lemaux was arrested and searched at the Nashua police station. Some of the property taken from his person was identified by Mrs. Tolles.

Lemaux was held for the May term of Superior court, which was just beginning in Manchester. At 10 o'clock this morning the grand jury returned a true bill against the Maine man. Ten minutes later he had taken his place in the chain gang.

He was one of the first prisoners to be sentenced after the calling of the list. Not less than two years and not more than four years in State prison at Concord was the penalty imposed.

Lemaux was taken to Concord at 12:30 at noon and entered the State prison at 4 o'clock, just 24 hours after he burglarized the Nashua house. So fast were the developments in his case that upon being assigned his cell the Maine man seemed dazed and unable to comprehend what had happened to him.

From a financial standpoint the work the past year has been a success.

The closing session of the afternoon was the Quiet hour, conducted by Rev. A. T. McWhorter of South Paris.

The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: Pres.—Rev. H. L. Hanson, Rumford. V. Pres.—Mrs. Laverna Niles, Rumford. Sec.—Mrs. E. A. Walker, South Paris. Treas.—Leon Stenols, Riddellville.

The nominating committee was composed of Rev. H. L. Hanson, Rev. A. T. McWhorter and Miss S. M. McAllister. The committee on resolutions included Rev. A. T. McWhorter, Mrs. Dora Muzzy and Josephine Dean; the committee on credentials, Rev. H. L. Hanson, Jessie C. Tolman and Elizabeth Foss, and the finance committee was made up of Rev. E. A. Local Farmers and Farms.

Sketches Solicited.

Ralph M. Bacon was born in Woodstock, July 24, 1885, the son of Herbert C. and Alice A. Hathaway Bacon; educated in the common schools of that town and Gould's Academy in Bethel, graduating in 1905.

Since that date he has been engaged in farming on the homestead farm, which has been in the Bacon name for over 60 years, his grandfather and father having both been engaged in farming there. He has had the management of the farm since 1907.

At present he is master of Franklin Grange, with 220 members, a good hall and a so-operative store which does a good business.

The farm consists of eighty-five acres and is situated 2 1/2 miles from Bryant Pond, the center of the town of Woodstock. "I believe thoroughly in Maine as the best state in the Union for a young man to make the most out of life, and that the next few years will witness developments and progress which will make people in other parts of the nation sit up and take notice," is the declaration of this Maine boy, who is so appreciative of the worth of his home state that he wants everyone outside of it to know of the good things that Maine has to offer.

C. E. Embree in the Maine Farmer says:

A number of years ago, the eyes of all New England were turned toward the west. The farmer believed that if he could own a farm out on the rich prairie lands of the west, his fortune was made. As a result, farming was neglected in New England, and soon there were abandoned farmers on every side.

The Maine farmer was the first to awake to the possibilities of Maine's soil, and to the fact that his boys who had gone to western lands had left greater opportunities behind them. I traveled for a number of years, covering all the great producing states from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Two years ago I became connected with the Agricultural Department of the State of Maine. During this time, I have covered every producing center in the state and now I say: "Come east, young man." I have learned that Maine is blessed with a most wonderful producing soil. While the average yield of potatoes in the United States is less than 100 bushels to the acre, the average in Maine is over 250 bushels, and many fields average 500 bushels and the limit has not been reached.

Maine is growing more oats, wheat and corn to the acre than the most favorable states in the Union. The so called dry hills will and do yield more and better fruit than any other state.

Come East, Come to Maine, where agriculturally the greatest possibilities exist at any state in the Union.

HAPPY MOTHERHOOD

The happiness of motherhood is too often checked because the mother's strength is not equal to her cares, while her usefulness, devotion neglects her own health.

It is a duty of husband or friend to see that she gets the pure medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which is not a drug or stimulant but nature's concentrated oil-food tonic to enrich and enliven the blood, strengthen the nerves and aid the appetite. Physicians everywhere prescribe Scott's Emulsion for overworked, nervous, tired women; it builds up and holds up their strength.

A Famous Violin.

I. T. Bacon of Logansport, Indiana, is the proud possessor of a violin, which he had since 1838 and he would not part with it for many dollars. Its tone is wonderful.

The violin in question was made by I. H. Arey of Bosworth, N. H., a famous violin maker of the sixties. Mr. Arey went to Italy in 1838 and for nearly two years studied the famous violins of that country. He returned and made five violins, and then sustained an accident which resulted in his death. All of the violins were hand made and the first one sold for $300. Mr. Bacon's violin is the third one made. It has improved greatly with age and he has had several big offers of money for it within the past few years. Mr. Bacon at the time of securing the violin was a resident of Oxford county, Maine.

Webber's orchestra played in the "lounge" at Mechanic's Institute.

Albert Belliveau was chairman of arrangements.

Arguments were presented to the court by Dyer and Ludden, attorneys in the case of Alice C. Fletcher vs. Daniel W. Fletcher as to its further continuance.

Mr. Ludden presented an affidavit from a Boston physician stating that Mrs. Fletcher was on the verge of nervous prostration and unable to attend court.

An Interesting Book.

A French marquis whose country house is crowded with guests during the hunting season hit upon the original idea of placing a register at the disposal of her visitors in which to record their desires and criticisms.

The pages of the richly bound book soon began to be covered with notes such as:

"Count de R. still owes 25 louis. He knows to whom."

"The green peas yesterday were burned."

"Baroness M. flirts—unfortunately not with me."

Old Folks' Concert.

The Old Folks' concert given Thursday evening was a grand success. The house was filled to the entry. People from Paris Hill, Sumner and Norway were amongst the crowd.

At a little past eight Sister Grover began by playing Old Hundred in chime bells effect following with an old hymn march as the big chorus marched in from the dining room below, keeping the double march on two beats to the step time and three feet apart the stately squires and dames marched around the hall and through the audience and back again to the anteroom where they laid aside their wraps and filed in one row at a time and took their places on the stage, the music continuing until all were on and ready for the opening chorus. Following is the program as it was carried out:

Part Ye First
Grandmarch of ye Squires and Dames.....
Auld lang syne.....Ye Biggie Quire
Anthem for Easter.....
Oceans sacred.....Robbie Ruff
Northfield, Sherburne.....Ye Quire
When I was younger Green.....
Duet, Whispering Hopes.....

Cousin Jedediah.....
Sister Prudence and Ye Quire
Quartet, Old English, Sally in our Alley
Strike ye cymbal.....Ye Quire
I cannot sing the old songs.....Our Sally

Our Summer Conclude and Ye Quire

Part Ye Second
Anvil chorus.....Ye Menne Singers

Grandma's advice.....Ye Quire
Comin' thro' the storm.....

Coronation.....

Those who were assigned with assumed names may be known beginning with the first on the program in their order as follows:—Dana Grover, Horatio R. Tuell, Clayton Churchhill and Mrs. White. Mrs. Nellie Bacon, Mrs. Quimby Perham, Alice Barden, Rollin Stetson, Mrs. E. L. Wood, of South, Woodstock, Mrs. Mary Stetson, Mary Stearns.

Ye Biggie Quire were 35 voices. Franklin Grange quartet were Mr. and Mrs. Q. Perham and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis. The male quartet were Rollin Stetson, Clayton Churchhill, Dana A. Grover and Fred Dunham.

The home quartet were Miss E. Z. Berry, Mrs. Anna W. White, Clayton Churchhill and Dana Grover. Sister Perseverance Grover, alias Mrs. D. A. Grover, did "strike ye harp," directed "Ye Biggie Quire" as best she could in her double position, on account of the absence of Sister Aloia Sylvia, alias Mrs. J. P. Wood who was to "beat ye tymes" but who was detained in Boston on business.

But all praise to Sister Grover, the chorus kept perfect time. The old costumes were fine, some really elegant and all ranging from 25, 60, to 100 years old and the individuals were so well disguised as to be a real study to make them out. Many of the songs were ancient and all met with applause. About a third of the chorus does not belong to the grange but who kindly lent their talents, for which the grange is very grateful.

For years the public has had the free use of the Methodist horse sheds in West Paris village. Now the sheds need repairing and we are wondering if those who have had the use of the sheds are willing to help pay for the repairs. After May 15, in order to raise money, all persons, except owners of sheds will be charged 15 cents each time they occupy one of these sheds on a week day. On the Sabbath the sheds are free to all who attend our church services.

The County W. C. T. U. convention will be held here in the Universalist church, May 26-27.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fuller and two children of Dickvale are visiting his sister, Mrs. E. D. Curtis.

Mrs. Mary Bridges and little grandchild of Mechanic Falls, recently visited her sister at C. H. Lane's.

Mrs. Hattie B. Lyons of Zephherills, Fla., is at her home, The Willows. She is having some repairs made on her rents.

Mrs. J. H. Dunham has had her building newly shingled. Her friend, Mr. Bisbee of Norway, assisted by Mr. Gibbs of North Paris, did the work.

L. M. Menz & Son are running their clothing factory two evenings, Mondays and Fridays, until 9 o'clock and giving Saturday afternoons off for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Willis, Jr., of Sumner are stopping with his parents, as he is helping his brother, John, in his portable sawmill situated on the Snow's Falls road, about two miles from here.

Dr. F. E. Wheeler started Wednesday afternoon, by way of Montreal, for San Diego, Calif., as a carotaker for Mrs. David Andrews of Sumner. Mrs. Andrews, who has been boistered with Mrs. Mary Leach at Trip Corners, is over 80 years old and her son, who is a lawyer in California, has sent for her to come to him. The doctor will enjoy a fine trip. He expects to be gone about two weeks.

"Where the Lane Turned" a rural comedy drama, will be presented at the Grange hall on Thursday evening, May 21, under the auspices of Paris Grange, by the same cast of South Paris amateurs who played it at that place a few weeks since. It is a delightful comedy, with some telling situations, and was well received. Seats on sale at Carl Dunham's store, Saturday.

At the regular meeting of the Grange last Saturday, the following program was carried out by the lecturers, Mrs. DaBall: A piano duet by Mrs. D. A. Grover and Hazel Hammond; roll call; quotations from poets; question for discussion for the women, "The Inconveniences Seen About the House, and for the men, The Six Best Kinds of Apples to Raise. Both questions were well discussed. A duet, "Refuge," by Mr. Chubb and Mrs. White. The subject for the next meeting will be given next week.

A very pleasant and impressive program of exercises took place in the school yard Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after all the lessons of the day had been disposed of. A school flag had been presented to the school and they thought they would honor it with fitting exercises when they raised it first to the breeze. A pretty poem was purchased and set in the front yard about 15 feet out several lines, according to their grades, and formed in a semi-circle, the high school in the rear and the primary in front. Miss Roberts, the High School teacher, who had the exercises in charge, first addressed them in a few well chosen words, How to Fly the Stars and Stripes, closing with the National Rites for the same. Miss Brown, the musical director who was present, sang The Star Spangled Banner with the school chorus, following with the school salute. After the flag was raised there the Boy Scouts unfurled the flag and raised it to its place on the staff. An address, The History of the Flag, was given by Harold Perham, which was followed by a Scout salute by all the members of the Boy Scouts. An address, A Man Without a Country, was given by Supt. Jones and the chorus closed by singing America.

Mr. Jones told the children the story of the man without a country from the book of that title, and drew from it a lesson for the children and visitors, too, which was very interesting and instructive.

TREE PLANTING MACHINE.

Tool Sets Sapling and Prepares Soil at One Operation.

With a tree planting tool designed by a Utah blacksmith, the hole is dug, the little tree inserted and the earth packed around the roots in one operation, says Popular Mechanics.

The implement consists of a bar with a crossarm at the top and the blades of spring steel at the bottom, somewhat on the principle of the post digger and having a lever near the lower end. The lever is pressed with the foot, the tree inserted, and the tool is then thrust forcibly into the ground. A lever at the top of the handle is then twisted to open the blades, and the implement is swung around in the hole until the soil is pulverized. The planter is then withdrawn, leaving the cultivated earth packed around the roots of the plant.

Experiments made by the United States forest service have shown that one man with this tool can plant fifty small trees in thirty-five minutes.

NEW IDEA IN INK ERASERS.

Brush of Mineral Fibers That is Durable and Efficient.

Ink erasers need improvement. Knives cut and scrapers roughen the surface of paper; rubber mixed with powdered glass or sand wears through and is apt to tear the paper, while chemicals discolor the paper and obliterate ruled lines as well as the letters or figures they are applied to. A Syracuse inventor proceeds on a different principle and with success, says the Scientific American.

The eraser he perfected consists of a brush made of especially prepared mineral fibers and containing no less than 4,000 strands each. As the brush is only one-eighth of an inch thick and three-eighths of an inch wide, it will be understood that each of the 4,000 strands of fiber is exceedingly tenuous, but they give to each brush just 4,000 microscopic, diamond-like points of peculiar sharpness, and together they form an erasing edge that is flexible, durable and extremely efficient. The brushes are not made of asbestos or mineral wool, but of a substance more like spun glass.

Each brush is two inches long and is contained in a tube of aluminum and German silver that is three and three-quarters inches long and three-eighths of an inch in diameter. Turned in a German silver cap on the end of the tube moves the brush in or out as required.

Especially well adapted is the new eraser for removing single written or typed letters and figures from a line or column neatly and without affecting the adjoining marks, and it leaves the place of the letter or figure fit for use again without danger of blurring or blotting.

The Jerboa.

The jerboa, which is found in the deserts of Nubia and Syria, resembles a very small kangaroo and has a rich brown fur. On the first alarm it leaps over the ground with lightning rapidity and disappears in its burrow.

THE SEASHORE GIRL.

The Prettiest Bathing Cap in Many a Day.

BATHING CAP IN NELL ROSE.

Two long ends of Nell rose silk cross at the back of this cap and are drawn snugly around the head and tied in front in a perky bow, the cap being held firmly thus over the hair. In front is a visor flap of silk, which may be turned down over the eyes.

Concerning Women.

Mrs. Waldorf Astor, whose home is now in England, but who was born and brought up in Virginia, is said to be immensely popular with her husband's constituency in Devonshire. She made five speeches in two days recently and is quite a queen in Plymouth.

Mrs. Frank B. Tracy, who recently resigned the presidency of the Shut-in society of Boston, has been engaged in the work for fifteen years. She was presented with a gift in gold in appreciation of her faithful services. Mrs. Tracy is the wife of the editor of the Boston Transcript.

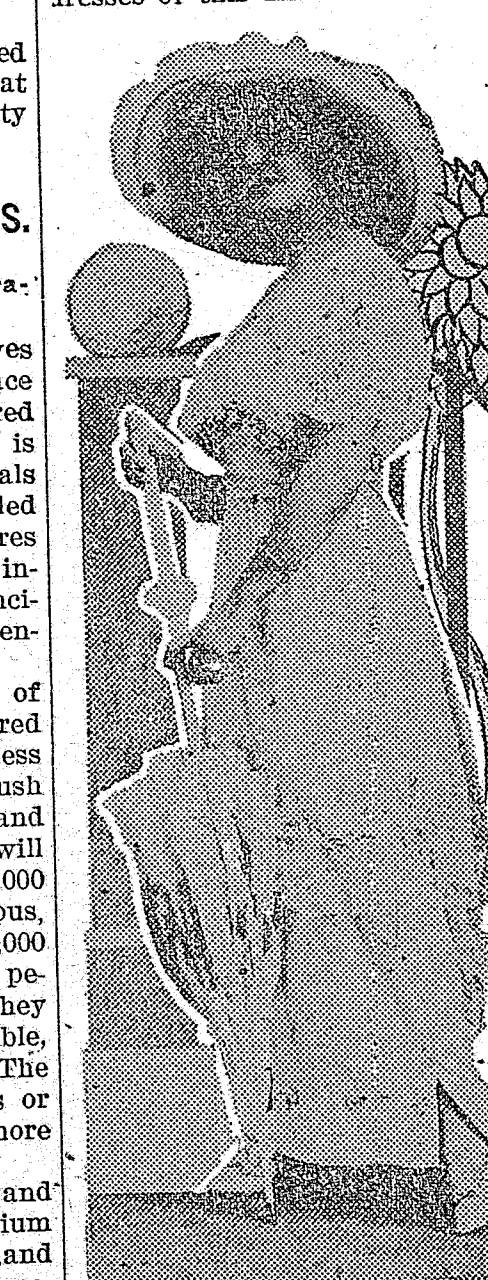

The famous girls' school at Ogontz has at last acquired the estate upon which the school is located. It was the property originally of Jay Cooke, the financier. It passed into the hands of the members of the faithful, who were never willing to sell it until it has now passed into the hands of Miss Abby A. Sutherland, who has conducted the school for a number of years. The price paid was $500,000 for 200 acres.

The co-eds of the Ohio States university have decided that they will use no more slang. Miss Caroline Breyfogle, dean of the women, and several other members of the faculty are in favor of the campaign, which has been started in earnest. The hall in which the girls meet is called the "gab room," and the dean has offered $5 for a name to substitute for this slangy one.

Summer One Piece Frocks.

A liberal supply of one piece frocks of thin cottons and linens should be included in every summer wardrobe, and such frocks are to be had in pretty materials in the shops at surprisingly low prices, or they may be made up by the home seamstress at even smaller expense.

Sheer cotton crapes make ideal dresses of this kind for hot days, and

GARDEN PARTY FROCK.

A charming model seen recently was of embroidered marquisette, which formed the bodice. On the blouse at the waist line in front were two little pointed tabs, which extended below the waist line, giving the effect of a bolero. The edges of the bolero were outlined in heavy embroidery.

The skirt of the frock was formed of cotton-crape. A delightful model of a more elaborate character is illustrated, which would be especially pretty for a garden party.

Starch For Laces and Muslins.

Mix a small quantity of corn flour smoothly with cold water. This will be found excellent for lightly stiffening all delicate and lacy fabrics, including veils and neckwear of sheer materials.

The Prohibition State Convention will be held in Gospel Mission Hall, Portland, Tuesday, May 26, at 10 o'clock a. m.

A. F. Chute has gone to Portland to serve on the jury. Crystal Hamilton stays with Mrs. Chute in his absence.

At the Tuesday evening session of the O. E. S., a short program was given consisting of music and a well acted dialogue.

Mother's Sunday was observed at the church last Sabbath. The pastor preached from the text "Behold, thy mother," an eloquent sermon. Mrs. Laiter sang an appropriate song in a charming manner. Mayflowers, pine branches and a few carnations adorned the altar. Prayer service this week will be Thursday evening.

DENMARK

The Drive.

Last week was a busy one in Denmark when the largest drive in years, containing some two million feet of lumber passed through on its way to Saco.

Not only was this spring's drive numerically large, but it contained among innumerable logs of ordinary size, many forest giants, whose gigantic dimensions, recalled to even veteran lumbermen the out of earlier years.

For four days every available male in Denmark went armed with pick and peavyle while amateur exhibitions of pluck strength and skill were continuous.

Among the whole, venturesome, hard working crew, none received more attention than our veteran townsman, A. B. Ordway.

Seventy-two years of age, he served with the first rush of water and dip of water, to slough off some forty farming years, and became the active, agile lumber-jack, that long seasons ago used to convey the great Androsoggin log drives from their mountain homes to their mill yard grave.

Swift, strong, alert during the whole drive, he set a pace, which men half his age, were not ashamed to follow.

When the last log had passed under the bridge and the little jam below had been broken and set adrift, two of the workers, A. P. Cobb of Denmark and Roy Osgood of Brownfield, found themselves marooned upon a rock, nearly in mid-stream; their return to land was accompanied by some spectacular ducking.

After scrambling to safety and indulging in a little wordy sparring, both edged and plunging again into the icy water treated the amused spectators to an impromptu swimming match, from which they emerged with honors even, although Mr. Cobb would doubtless accord them to his companion, who labored under the disadvantage of having but one arm.

We understand Fred Alexander has purchased a new auto.

The C. E. meeting was with Mrs. Leon Ingalls, Tuesday evening.

George Gray, who had an ill turn last week is so to go auto riding, pleasant afternoons.

Among our townspeople who have been spending a few days in Portland are Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cobb, A. S. Colby, Mrs. I. H. Berry and Mrs. Irving Ingalls. There is to be a pink ball at I. O. O. F. hall Friday evening, May 15, by the Whist Club. Music by Berry & Ingalls orchestra. The club have held two meetings in their new hall.

MAKES RHEUMATISM PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Chronic, Crippled-up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of New Remedy are Taken

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the clogged-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter all the poisons from the blood and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All drug druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.

STONE'S WATER GLASS

For Preserving Eggs

DIRECTIONS—Use only perfectly fresh eggs. Stale eggs will not keep by any method of preservation. Clean out the vessel in which the eggs are to be packed (preferably a stone jar) by scalding with boiling water. Prepare the solution, using water that has first been boiled then cooled to ordinary temperature.

To each 10 quarts of water add 1 quart of water glass. Pack the eggs into the jar and pour the liquid over them, covering the eggs completely. Do not wash the eggs before packing them, as this may injure their keeping qualities by removing a natural protective coating on the outside of the shells.

Keep the eggs packed in this manner in a cool, dark place, such as a dry cool cellar.

BETHEL.

Harold Hastings is making preparations to return to his ranch in Montana.
Levi Brown has moved into Dana Philbrook's house on the Locke's Mills road.

B. W. Kimball has returned from Canada where he has been scaling for the Berlin Mills Co.

Hubert York of Waterford has moved his family to Bethel and is working for Prof. W. R. Chapman.

Sumner Edwards of Harvard Medical school is spending a few days with Mr.
and Mrs. F. L. Edwards.

C. H. L. Powers has returned from a two months' visit in New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

Middle Intervale.

Wallace Farwell, who visited in Lowell, Mass., has returned.

Mrs. Sadie Bird of Berlin, N. H., is with her aunts, Miss S. N. Kimball and sister here.

H. L. Powers, who is cook for Berlin
Mills drive, was at home for a short stay and has returned.

Mrs. Mary Jordan of Locke's Mills has been here with her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Oliver, and other connections.

Dr. B. W. Kimball whose death has been announced was a native of Maine and has two sisters here and other relatives, also a sister who lives elsewhere.

Mrs. Alphonso Bean is in Portland with her sister, being ill and under a doctor's care. Her daughter, Ada Bean, is with her. Mr. Bean is alone, hoping and praying for her recovery and return to her home again.

A. M. Carter is having a supply of lime and fertilizer put on his land. Mr.
Carter keeps his farm up. He gets a pension, being a Civil War veteran, and is a civil engineer and gets a lot of money to work in a good way for farm improvements.

When we look at the once nice school house near the Carter Mansion now going to ruin, we think of the happy group of children who gathered there some years ago, the most of who are now living but some have entered the Higher School to which we are making preparations here. We will give the names of pupils when the writer was teacher here in 1887:

Helen L. Carter, Alice M. Carter, Frances A. Carter, Arthur E. Jordan, M. F.
Bean, Joseph O. Jordan, Edward M.
Carter, Clara B. Sanborn, Mattie I. Jo-dan, Florence M. Osgood, Howard Carter, Nettie B. Cummings, ages respectively 10, 8, 9, 8, 10, 13, 12, 6, 12, 13, 14, 11.

Three of these have entered the Higher School, Helen L. Carter, Clara B. Sanborn, Nettie B. Cummings. They were the best pupils in scholarship and department. Helen Carter was remarkable for memorizing.
As we read the death of Abel E. Goss we go back to the year 1885, while a teacher at Locke's Mills and here are the names of the scholars—Abel E.
Goss, Willie F. Bean, Charles M. Herrick,
Fred Whitman, Ernest E. Libby, Geo.
Woodsum, Harry Jordan, Albert A.
Woodsum, Percy Curtis, Walter Scott,
John N. Bean, Delbert Libby, L. C. Be-ton, Young, Bertha A. Curtis, Blanche
Herrick, Ada Beckett, Lillian Fairbanks,
Ellen J. Scott, Linnie Herrick, Carrie
Rand, Daisy Libby, Jennie Coffin.

Narrow Escape.

Thomas E. Malloy of Gorham, N. H., had a narrow escape from instant death.
He and Charles Davis of Oxford went to Groveton to buy livestock. Having completed their business with the Odell Manufacturing company, and desiring to go a little way out of the village, the Odell company's auto was commissioned.

They had not gone far when, without warning the auto turned turtle. Mr.
Malloy was pinned underneath, and when the car was lifted from him he was unconscious and remained so for several minutes. Strange to say, beyond a lamed shoulder and several small cuts on his face, none of them apparently serious, he was uninjured. None of the other four men in the car were injured.

Hon. Walden Patten of Rumford was elected Deputy Grand Master at the Masonic Grand Lodge held at Portland.

Mysteries.

We know not what it is my friends,
This sleep so deep, the awful calm,
The cheeks so pale and chill,
The lips that will not lift again.
Though we may call and call,
The strange white solitude of peace
That settles over all.
We know not what it means my friends,
This doleful heart's pain,
The dread to take our daily way,
And walk in it again;
We know not to what sphere
The loved ones that leave us go,
And why we're left to wander still.
Nor why, we do not know.
But this we know, our loved and lost,
If they should come this way,
Should come to ask us, what is life?
Not one of us could say.
Life is a mystery as deep
As death can ever be.
Yet on how sweet it is to us,
This life we're given to live,
Then might they say, those vanished ones
And blessed is the thought,
That death is sweet to our friends,
Though we may tell you nought,
We may not tell it to the quick.
This mystery of death,
We could not tell it if we would
The mystery of our breath.
The child that enters life, comes not
With knowledge or insight.
So those who enter death must go
As little children, not to know.
Nothing is known but I believe
That God is over all things,
And as life is to the living
So death is to the dead.
The light we see, the sounds we hear
Of how little we are aware,
Of the mysteries around us
That meet us on our daily way.
The morning light succeeds the night
The evening quick appears;
One day is gone and another comes
On the great mystery is drawing near.
The individuals that enter death
Do not go with their consent,
However ready they may be.
Of the thought a chill is sent,
A quivering through their form
Clothed in that great mystery death
That walks us from that light of morn
That would set the soul at rest.
Then if we do not understand
The many mysteries here,
How can we fashion out a great plan
On that Heavenly Sphere,
That we are told is so very plain
By men of humble birth?
That does not understand
One such thing as God?
Then like the children in our schools
Let us learn our A, B and C,
For everything is made by God.
We are in his mysteries;
And if the little things of life
Are passed under his eye,
How can we grasp the mighty things,
Beyond this earth and sky?
Then let us not fear to ask,
From nature's vastness it will unfold
Truths that will lead to heaven.
God's mysteries silently do speak,
If we stop to learn the way.
The problem solved it will not be Greek,
The night will change to day.

War in Mexico? Don't look so much like it as it did. Thanks to the ennobling ideals of the nations that are not learning war any more, it seems as if the dire calamity may be averted.

But, already, have been inflicted that never can be entirely healed. And still, as Stephen A. Douglass truly said, "the shortest road to peace is in the most elaborate preparations for war." Had these come earlier, the bruises aforesaid might never have been inflicted.—[Bridgton News.
